EMERGENCY RULE

Under RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds:

- That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.
- That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule.
- That in order to implement the requirements or reductions in appropriations enacted in any budget for fiscal year 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, or 2013, which necessitates the need for the immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the fiscal needs or requirements of the agency.

Reasons for this finding: The anti-snagging rule has been implemented by this emergency rule for the Big Quilcene River in order to improve enforcement efforts and reduce impacts of hooking mortality of Endangered Species Act-listed summer chum. The anti-snagging emergency rule is intended to replace the permanent rule requiring that only coho that are hooked inside the mouth may be retained. There is insufficient time to adopt permanent rules.
